CREAM OF NEWS.

Another Lawyer Assaulted.

Saturday morning as lawyer D. L. ohnson was walking along the pavement near the corner of Main and Sixth streets, in company with Parker Wright, Frank McCarroll stepped out of the hallway at the foot of the Mr. Lute Petree, of Trenton, spent steps leading to the rooms above the Planters Bank and dealt him a powerful blow from behind, with a large heavy stick. The blow on Johnson's head stunned him, but he did not fall and McCarroll followed up the assault, striking one or more blows with his fist before the bystanders, of whom there were several, could interfere. Johnson was taken completely unawares and did not know what had hit him until the difficulty was all over. McCarroll was put under arrest and his trial set for next Saturday. The trouble had its origin several days before when there were some angry words between the two in Johnson's office, which ended by Johnson's ordering McCarroll out Peters, of Lafayette, were in town of his office; since that time they had not spoken to each other. The by-Miss Laura Cooke, of Clarksville, standers who saw the assault are of was the guest of the Misses Mercer the opinion that Johnson's skuil would have been fractured if the blow had not glanced to some extent.
